

Sara Furber

Chief Financial Officer

Sara Furber was appointed Chief Financial Officer for Tradeweb Markets in 2021. She oversees all of the company's finance activities and is a member of the executive leadership team.

Prior to joining Tradeweb, Furber served as CFO for IEX Group. She led the company's finance function and oversaw its new business portfolio, including technology businesses such as data platform IEX Cloud. Prior to joining IEX in 2016, Furber was a Managing Director and a member of Morgan Stanley's Management Committee. She held several senior executive positions at Morgan Stanley, including Chief Operating Officer for Wealth Management. Furber previously served as Chief Operating Officer for Global Corporate and Investment Banking at Bank of America Merrill Lynch, after leading Investor Relations for Merrill Lynch during the global financial crisis and through its merger with Bank of America. She began her career in investment banking in 1997.

Furber has a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Duke University.
